Project Co-leader Application
PROJECT GUANAJUATO

Job Description
PROJECT GUANAJUATO is now accepting applications for two summer 2013 Project Leaders. Project Guanajuato is a summer community development internship for UNC undergraduates in Guanajuato, Mexico. This project is a collaborative effort between The Latino Migration Project http://isa.unc.edu/lmp/project-guanajuato/ and the Mexican NGO Fundación Comunitaria del Bajío http://www.fcbajio.org. Students will live in one of two rural communities that experience high levels of emigration to the United States and stay with families for 6-8 weeks in June and July. Students will teach English, recreation, arts and/or dance classes at local elementary, middle, and/or high schools. The mission of the Fundación is to create viable economic and social opportunities in communities in the Bajío region.

The position is year-long and begins in January of 2013. In the spring 2013 semester, the two project leaders will recruit and help train a team of 6-8 UNC students, who will be selected through an interview process in January. In May and June of 2013, project leaders will lead the team of students to complete summer internships. In the fall of 2013, returned trip leaders will help recruit students for the next year.

Each trip leader will receive a $1,250 stipend.

Requirements:
- Experience living/working abroad
  -Teaching experience
  -Fluency in Spanish language
  -Sophomores and Juniors preferred
  -Proven commitment to public service
  -Must be able to participate in Project Leader recruitment during fall 2013

Duties:
- Work effectively with the other Project Leader
- Maintain regular communication with FCB, ISA and previous leaders starting December 2012
- Recruit students to the team that will travel to Guanajuato in the Summer of 2013
- Assist with training, developing lesson plans
- Plan logistics and design work plan for Summer Project
- Write a Project Report in August 2013
- Recruit Summer 2014 Project Leaders in the fall of 2014
Project Leaders work closely with Adriana Cortes (FCB Director), Hannah Gill (ISA Assistant Director, and former student interns.
